

During this time of uncertainty Insider Exposure, a leader in girls grassroots basketball has been monitoring the situation with COVID-19 on a daily basis so that we can put in policies and procedures to make sure our July events can proceed as planned.

Current Schedule -
Indianapolis, IN
July 6-8 Hoosier Heat
July 9 Indy 500
July 10-12 Summer Madness

Atlanta, GA
July 20-22 War Games
July 23-25 ATL Summer Slam

We will have numerous safeguards in place to help protect all participants, spectators and officials. We do not make this decision lightly to move forward and we certainly take great care in having a safe environment for everyone.

As the safety of the participants is our highest priority, Insider Exposure will follow the recommendations of the CDC, state, county and local authorities as well as implementing several additional precautionary measures. The steps we are outlining are taken proactively and based on current information. Insider Exposure events will continue to be a place of opportunities for student athletes to reach their full potential and college coaches to view players from across the country. These are our current policies and procedures but they are subject to change as more information becomes available. We will work diligently to meet the current industry standards at the time of the event.

Spectator Safety

To decrease the number of people waiting in lines and limit the amount of cash changing hands at the event, spectators will be encouraged purchase their admission on-line prior to the event. We encourage some type of face covering being worn whenever possible.

Watch Remotely - We are working with several 'live-streaming' providers to help ensure the safest possible viewing experience for athletes, parents, relatives and the basketball community.

Extensive Screening Measures - Temperature Check

To ensure the safety of our spectators, parents, players, officials, college coaches and workers: anyone entering the facility will have their temperature taken to eliminate any person(s) who may be running a fever. Any person entering the facility with a temperature over 100.4 degrees will be asked to leave the facility. This will be conducted with a thermal scanner as each person enters the building. This non-invasive system is highly accurate and will allow for the safest possible playing conditions.

Social Distancing Measures – All Locations

Doors shall be marked for entrances and exits to assist in limiting interaction. There will be a limited number of vendors to allow more space for courts and limit areas where teams gather.

Limited Interaction

There will be no handshakes before or after games and teams are encouraged to remove all trash from their bench area after each game.

Disinfecting Procedures - Handwashing & Sanitizing - All courts will be disinfected between games. Additional hand washing and sanitizing stations will be available within each facility. There will be additional protective equipment such as masks, gloves and wipes available to the event staff.

Entry Deadline Extended

To provide as much time as possible for teams to make the right decision for their players, coaches and families, we have extended the entry deadline to June 26th for Indianapolis events & July 13th for Atlanta events

News continues to update daily on the status of the pandemic and these safety measures are subject to change. In the unfortunate event it is deemed unsafe to hold the tournament, we will abide by state or federal guidelines, cancel the event, and refund fees to participating teams.

Be well and stay safe,

Insider Exposure
